

A true rarity: FINE, BLACK

Proudly Presenting:

Alpaca Knight's Ace of Spades

Standing Stud at:
Alpacas of Cripple Creek
Paso Robles, California

Beginning
November 2008

Patagonia's Drake & Danko
Sire & Grandsire

Ace of Spades
Full Chilean

Sire: Patagonia's Drake – Dam: Patagonia's La Perla

Reserve Breedings Today!

Special Fall/Winter Season Pricing

Stud Fee: $1,500

Contact:

Art and Lynn Kishiyama
Phone: (805) 238-7304

E-Mail: cripplecreek@wildblue.net
www.alpacasofcripplecreek.com

The son of Patagonia's Drake and grandson of Danko, Ace comes from some of the best Chilean genetics in the country, with an incredible background in both black and grey fiber.

His gorgeous solid conformation, extremely large bone and full coverage are just the beginning of his assets. A rare combination of black fiber and an extremely fine handle, Ace's most impressive attribute is his fleece. The MC of his first fleece was an amazing 15.3, and remains fine as he ages (19.2 at 2 years of age). In addition to such fineness, Ace's Comfort Factor is a perfect 100%!

His staple length was just short of 5 inches the last two years. His even, consistent crimp boasts another rarity. It shows low amplitude and high frequency throughout the blanket – perfect for tightening the broader crimped girls.

Add Ace's baby-soft handle, eye-popping brightness, and tight crimp to your herd. Contact us today about Ace. He's a rare opportunity you don't want to miss.